BRIEF ABSTRACT OF LETTER.

Submits for approval a proclamation in English and Kannada about the proposed Constitution of the Narasipur Town (including the Suburban Villages of Terakanambi, Gargeswari and Algud) into a Municipality.

NOTES AND ORDERS

The population of Narasipur according to the Census of 1901 was only 2406. From 1st July 1906 the Village of Algud — Thro is called Hosa Alagód in the Rice's Gazetteer and and Hosa agrahara in the Census tables of 1901 — which is found to be six furlongs to the South of Narasipur was included in the Municipal limits under orders conveyed in G.P. No 8626-8 & 20th February 1906 Jul 2405-9 The population of the Alagud village shewn in the Census table of 1901 is 2098 but the Dy Comr reported in October 1905 it was only 1432. The population of the D'Hara Sagar Municipality is between 4504 and 3838. Under para 4 of G.P. No 5221-30 & the 17th December Jul 257-06-1 1906, this Municipality cannot be constituted a Municipality under the Municipal Regulation, its population being below 5000 the limit prescribed in that order To overcome this difficulty the Dy Comr proposes the inclusion of Immavakkudlu and Gargeswari villages within the Municipal limits. He says that the fresh village to be added [illegible]

two furlongs from Narasapur and the Gargesvara written about a Mile from Irumakkudlu. Irumakkudlu and Gargesvara are separated from Narasapur and Alagad by the river Kapila In the Census table Irumakkudlu is not mentioned. Perhaps Kuddliri Village mentioned therein and Irumakkudlu are one and the same Village. The population of Kuddliri in 1901 was and of Gargesvara in 1901 was respectively 294 and 1356. From the Dy Coms report under disposal it would appear that they have taken aggregate population of the four villages as 5800 'as per Census of 1901'. How this figure has been arrived at is not known. But according to the Census of 1901 the population of the four villages comes to 6154 as shewn below

The Dy Commrs proposals seem sound & worthy of very earnest attention - But the petition of parjeevanthi included in Municipal limits requires consideration & disposal first - Dy Commr accordingly asked the petitioners for Dy Commr's consideration report - The probability is that as parjeevanthi is often a centre for epidemics the majority of the people would like to be joined to Kanapur & share the advantages of municipal admn :- In that case it will be easy to obtain a memorandum from the more prominent residents of the place -

Sir

I have the honor to submit herewith for publication in the Mysore Gazette, a draft proclamation announcing that it is proposed to constitute J. Narsipur and three other neighbouring villages into a municipality under Regulation VII of 1906. The three neighbouring villages are (1) Alegud. (2) Tirumkoodlu and

and (3) Gargeswari. Algul has already been included within limits of the J. Karaipur Municipality (vide Govt order No 8626-8 dated 20th July 1907) Dr. P. Ralpin, the Deputy Sanitary Commissioner when he inspected the J. Karaipur Town, recommended that Tirumkoodal, which is only at a distance of two furlongs from J. Karaipur, might be included within the municipal limits. Gargeswari, which is within a mile's distance from Tirumkoodal, is recently formed into a "minor" under the Local Boards Regulation. At a meeting held on the 30th October 1907, the Municipal Board of J. Karaipur resolved that all the four places named above be constituted into a Municipality,
